Classics

You get our unique optical projection effects, not available anywhere else, plus professional lighting with service and attention to detail that have been our hallmarks for years.

Digital photography means no film to process. It also means we can more easily enhance our results in subtle – and not so subtle – ways!

How does it work?

When you book, the Studio is reserved for one hour. During your session, we create around ten to twelve different images for you to choose from.

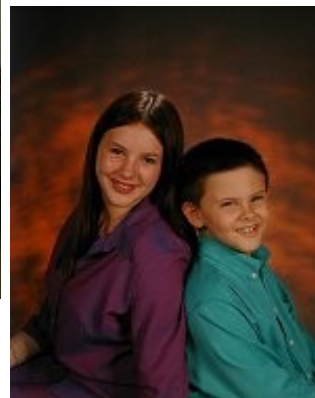

The results are viewed straight after your session.

Once you have chosen your favourite, it will be printed to the size you want, ready to frame.

You may also order frames and extra prints if you wish in any size or finish. There are special rates for extra prints made at the same time as your main order.

Prints are usually finished within two working days, but please let us know when you book if you need them sooner and we will try to help.

How much does it cost?

Classic sessions are charged at:

With one 12"x10" Wallportrait – from £95

With one 16"x12" Wallportrait – from £155

With one 20"x16" Wallportrait – from £225

With one 24"x20" Wallportrait – from £295

With one 30"x24" Wallportrait – from £395

With one 40"x30" Wallportrait – from £495

All these charges include Studio session and finished WallPortrait, mounted and finished ready to frame. Just add your choice of frame from our huge range to complete your Classic!

Canvas WallPortraits are also available in all sizes at additional cost.

Extras

Extra prints can be ordered at any time, but you can save 25% by making them at the same time as your main order. Please see our Reprints and Enlargements leaflet for current charges.

We also offer high quality hand-made frames in an choice of over 4000 styles.

If you need your portrait urgently, remember to allow at least one week for frames to be made to your order.

Special services

We can make many enhancements to your portraits, including retouching, adding text in any style, fancy borders and numerous effects.

Let's flex some creative muscle!

You'll have seen many special effects used in advertising, film and specialist media. Any style of work you have seen can be provided, but please discuss your ideas with us when booking. Many effects can only be successfully used if the original image has been created for the purpose.
